Equine Assisted Learning

What is Equine-Assisted Learning (EAL)?

EAL is an experiential, skill-building modality that partners people with equines to grow and develop social-emotional skills, such as:

Building Trust

Focus & Mindfulness

Teamwork

Reading Body Language

Setting Boundaries

Clear Communication

Making Requests

Creative Problem-Solving

Participants take part in structured horsemanship activities like leading, grooming, obstacle courses and more, allowing participants to practice different behaviors and responses with real-time, non-judgmental feedback from their equine partner.

In EAL sessions, an instructor and volunteer adult mentor will help participants find a takeaway from their learning that they can apply to other areas of their life. We may also incorporate small animal activities with rabbits, goats, chickens, dogs, and cats. These sessions help participants build confidence, tools, & strategies needed to make healthy, helpful choices off the farm!

Please note: EAL is not clinical mental health therapy. Sessions will be led by PATH Intl. Certified Equine Professionals.

I understand that Summer Camp at Animals as Natural Therapy is not a clinical mental health therapy. I understand there are no therapists on site.
